My Very Best

What are the benefits of training for young ladies?

Graduates of the My Very Best program will develop skills they need to be successful at school, in their relationships, and in life generally. Knowing what is expected in social settings boosts confidence and having a clear understanding of social rules helps young ladies show respect and earn the respect of others. Worries about how the world views them, not always feeling comfortable about themselves, or being in unfamiliar social settings can seriously impact the self-esteem and confidence of young ladies entering their teens.
